I am writing to express my concerns about PR Docket 92-235. This proposed rule does not take into consideration the needs of rural areas. It would require local governments to invest many thousands of dollars to solve a problem we do not face in Idaho.

It could well be, that before the communications equipment dictated under this proposed rule is needed in Idaho that it would also be obsolete. It is my opinion, an exemption of rural areas from this rule is needed.

Yes, modifications may be necessary, but time should be provided under the rule to allow local governments to do so when needed and when affordable.

Sincerely,
